ALL GAMES

The Players -- A complete roster appeared in DIPLOPHOBIA #12, with changes in #14. Changes since then are as follows:

Hoheisel, R. Wayne (CoA) -- 502d Admin Co., 2d AD, "Chaplain's Section", Ft. Hood, Texas, 76546.

Kuch, Terry (CoA, eff. 31 Oct.) -- 1910 13th St. North, Apt. 204, Arlington, Va., 22201, (703-JA5-2169).

Latimer, James, III (CoA) -- Merrimack College, Austin Centre, Room 265, N. Andover, Mass., 01845.

Lebling, David (CoA) -- Room 2234, Burton House, 420 Memorial Drive, Cambridge, Mass., 02139.

Mazor, John (CoA) -- 301 E. University Parkway, Baltimore, Md., 21218.

Naus, Harold -- LC, ME -- 288 Broadway, Flat 139, Chula Vista, Cal., 92010 (420-9619).

Olive, David (CoA) -- Sp-4 David Olive, US-52674139, HQ Btry, 1/6th Artillery, 1st AD, Ft. Hood, Texas, 76546.

Note also that Gemignani is still at 67 Windermere Rd., Rochester, N.Y., 14610.

Replacement Players -- As stated in the revised House-Rules in DIPLOMANIA #18, the old replacement rule is out. The players are urged to send in "General Orders" IAW H-R #27, to avoid their forces standing idle if they miss a move. "General Orders" are not published, and remain sealed until such time as they are used.

The Gamesmaster -- For all games, Don Miller, 12315 Judson Rd., Wheaton, Md., 20906 (ph. 301-933-5417; call only between 8 and 11 p.m. EDT on weekdays except Fri.).

The "House-Rules" -- As published in DIPLOMANIA #18. Read these carefully!!

New Games -- Two more players needed for PTC (Regular Diplomacy Game #13) in DIPLOPHOBIA (remember that fees should be paid at time of application -- 5 players already signed up please pay fees ($3 if it is your first DIPLOPHOBIA game; $2 otherwise) by Nov. 8); HYPERSPACE II #2 needs two more players (GCM Buddy Tretick; magazine: SUPERCAL; fees due from players already on roster NLT Nov. 8); SIMULATION DIPLOMACY (SDD in SUPERCAL) needs two more 5-man teams; KRIEGSPIEL DIPLOMACY (players known, but moves are not) now open; INSURRECTION and HYPERECONOMIC DIP coming soon.

Miscellaneous -- Error in game PME in DPLBA #14: under "FALL, 1902 moves", opposite RUS, delete "Rum". ##### We are cracking down on late moves -- read H-R #11 carefully. Late this time were: Gemignani, Bryant (17 Oct., but after noon deadline); Carey, McIntyre, Francis, Haramis, Glavic, Ogle, Scholti, Tretick, Nemeth (18 Oct.); Mazor, Budd (19 Oct.); Chalker (20 Oct.; our fault, though). All players be forewarned -- no moves arriving after noon, Nov. 8, will be counted, even if they are only one minute late! It is not fair to those players who get their moves in on time for us to use late moves. We give you deadlines which are far apart so you can mail your moves to us on time -- and more and more have been coming in late. So no more being nice -- all late moves will be disregarded. Growlll! ##### The next couple of deadlines will be only three weeks apart, so we can avoid an issue during the December mail madness. Mail your moves early, so we'll get them on time. ##### Remember the 2-week carbon-copy game which is now open (Regular; $3 fee). DLM

Paris -- Austria-Hungary: Don't mind my fleet off Lyon; it's after you-know-who.

Vienna -- The Central European Federation officially offers membership, with full privileges and obligations, to the Ottoman Empire, under the following conditions: (1) That the Ottoman Empire recognize as de jure the existence of the CEF prefectures of Akhaia, Sofia, Bucharest, Egypt, and Nicosia; (2) That the Ottoman Empire recognize the incorporation of the Crimea into the German sphere of influence; (3) That the Ottoman Empire place its military forces under control of the CEF, to use as the CEF sees fit; (4) That the Ottoman Empire establish democratic of constitutional rule after the pattern of the so-called "Quiet Revolution" which brought the CEF itself into existence; (5) That the Ottoman Empire cease all aggressive actions against the CEF, the German Empire, the Persian Republic, and Saudi Arabia.

Signed,

C. F. Kossuth

Minister of State

GM Note -- Dave, since you sent us new propaganda and said nothing about the old, we assumed the new replaced the old and omitted the old. O.k.?

Propaganda --

Austria-Hungary -- I still believe you; please don't fail me.

Constantinople -- The Sublime Porte regrets the necessity of safeguarding its possessions in the Crimea by force of arms, and expresses its hopes that this action will not have a deleterious effect on the friendship and good-will which have prevailed between the Porte and the Kremlin for nearly four years. The Porte pointed to its actions in the south as proof of its continued loyalty to the alliance and pointed out that with the military successes that have followed the Kremlin in the Germanies and Scandia there is little need for a southern naval base. "For after all, has the Tsar enemies in the south?" remarked Abdul Hamid. He pledged the return of the Crimea to the Russias as soon as military developments in the Balkans permit. He also warned the Tsar not to risk the gains of the Russias by overcommitting strength to the war in Austria. The Austrians have a superior military force at their disposal, and even now lay siege to Vienna and Buda. Unless judicious action is taken the legions of the Kremlin may be driven completely from the Danube plains.

Copenhagen, Denmark -- Admiral Nikolai Khranin, Commander of the Russian fleets in the North, was received in Copenhagen. He proceeded through the city to the King's palace in an official procession. Before entering the royal palace, he exchanged speeches with the Danish Foreign Minister, Olaf Jensen. Khranin spoke first, complimenting the will of the Danish People in throwing off the German yoke. Jensen spoke thanking Khranin, who is now a military ambassador for Tsar Ivan of Russia, for the assistance of the Russian navy.

Ekaterinsburg -- Prince Seviotov, Heir Apparent to the Russian Throne, commented on Austrian foreign policy. "Austria pats Italy on the head as if Italy were Austria's ward. They say their alliance is as good as ever and then send their navy into Tunisia. The perfidy of the Dual Monarch and his dual personality becomes obvious. When a worm like him squirms he cares little about what he destroys."

London -- Throw the German out.

Rome -- Austria: Hoheisel! If you've double-crossed me this move I'll enlist so I can kill you!

Sevastopol -- Count Alexis Trubloff explained the loss of Russia's southern fleet. "The Turks need the equipment more than we do so we authorized them to take control of a percentage of the ships in the Black Sea fleet. The capital ships, however, have returned to Odessa and remain under Russian control."

Propaganda --

Ankara -- France, do you ever get that stuffy feeling, like you've had too much to eat?

London -- Paris: If the shoe fits, wear it! I'm only protecting my own interests. ##### When the fleet moves away I guarantee to do likewise. Put an army near Brest if you don't believe me.

Paris -- London: The French General Staff revealed today that Italy offered huge bribes to high French officials to get France to attack England. This was discovered and the offenders caught and punished. English assistance in the south will be appreciated at any time.

Rome -- "Perfidy!", screamed King Humbert. "Perfidy!! Those lousy French paysans, landing in my Africa and wandering around like a bunch of tourists, stealing figs from the natives and spilling that lousy wine they make all over the streets in Tunis. This has got to stop!" With that Humbert dispatched the Second Fleet to Sicily, from whence it will go to Tunisia and put down those Frenchmen. "At peace indeed!"

Amsterdam -- Rudolf Raindear was seen pulling a pink battleship pulltoy through Hannover. When asked to comment he said, "I've simply got to get to Carnaby Street. My tailor's such a sweetie. He's designed a fab gear outfit for me to wear when in command of the new German fleet. It's just something he threw together from the remnants of the Union Jack.

Antwerp -- Platz Marshall Klaus von Santa explained his presence in this city. "I'm on mein way to London. Ich must Rudolf zu London gebeaten. Ich must mein Lavender pants haben. Dat krazy Rudolf won't tell me vat kleeners he hat them gelefted at."

Vienna -- For the thousandth time we offer peace to the Sultan. We offer him concessions, a trade route to the west, dominion in the Russias, and most of all, peace with the Osterreich. We have had enough of this war of brothers, we wish to join with the Sultan's people in the defeat of the Western aggressors who even now are poking their snouts into the Inner Sea. We offer the Sultan the status quo as it was established in 1904, plus the cession of the Crimea in exchange for either Greece or Bulgaria, and the cession of Tunis to come with the surrender of the Italian irredentists. All this we offer you, and the goodwill of all the peoples of the Danube. Can any man refuse?

No source given -- Wanted: Political asylum for two. Would prefer country villa with comfortable pension. Time is short. All reasonable offers considered. Contact Russian or Italian governments somewhere in Russia or Italy.

Propaganda --

Constantinople -- Scientists the world over are baffled over the hundreds of crewless Italian warships that are drifting up on the beaches of southern Turkey -- could it be another breakout of that dread disease, Gemignaritis? The Sultan has expressed the opinion that the Italians rather try to swim home than face the wrath of Allah

London -- Glory to King Rupert, glory to the Angevin Empire, glory to the West, glory to the Emperor. On July 14, 1905, Napoleon IV of France, King of Spain and Portugal, King of Belgium, Lord Protector of the British Isles, and Defender of the Faith was crowned Louis I, Emperor of the Angevins in Westminster. After 1,000 years, the glory of the cross-Channel empire was restored. In abdicating his other offices, the Emperor takes up one that has been vacant since the Hundred Years War, and he appointed in his stead his son, who is now of age, to rule as King in France, while he confirmed Rupert as King in England. He pledged all aid to the people of Scandinavia in throwing off their oppressors -- Englishmen who fled with the coming of Rupert, setting up their own separate fiefdoms in the northlands. "Even now," he said, "an Angevin fleet is on its way to Trondjem, oppressed under the rebel heel for high onto five years. Cecil Salisbury, who fled England when we landed to restore Rupert, has set up his own Empire in Norway, and we will drive him out!"

Bud -- France: Your non-discriminating expansionist desires on all fronts shock the peaceful ministry of Austria. Who are you anyway -- Napoleon or General Boulanger?

England -- Germany: If you help the French, I will attack you instead.

Germany -- England: See, I didn't tell a lie in propaganda -- a new record. I still don't want war.

Russia -- Germany: Get lost! Either play Diplomacy sensibly or don't play. Your unfounded, almost psychotic, hatred towards me, both in postal and across-the-board games, is most distressing. Either get help or get out. Other players please note this!

Turkey -- England: It sure is hard to believe that two countries appreciate an army on the continent -- of all de gaulle!

No source given -- I still don't believe you.

Propaganda --

Austria -- Austria regrets that Russia desires to declare war on her. My move to Galicia was to keep her out of Austria.

Grozny -- The Grozny Gazette has recently done a series of editorials on the obvious vacancy of the German Embassy in Moscow. Conclusion: the Hohenzollerns have caused this curious situation -- it is not because of any mistreatment of them by Katherine and the Royal Family.

Marseilles -- Louis XIV denounces this new system of transporting mail: "I never get any!"
